

Register early
limited space!

Putting Integrated Pest Management Into Practice at Your Agency or Business

▶ Learn from experts how to control ants, cockroaches, and spiders using less-toxic techniques

▶ Find out why adopting IPM practices is so important

▶ View the latest less-toxic products at vendor displays

WHEN:

June 28, 2001

The Gardens at
Heather Farm
1540 Marchbanks Dr.
Walnut Creek, CA

July 9, 2001

Quinlan Community
Center
10185 N. Stelling Rd.
Cupertino, CA

July 17, 2001

Alameda County
Public Works
951 Turner Ct.
Hayward, CA

WHO:

Agency, school and district staff or pest control operators who provide treatment for ants, cockroaches, and spiders or who hire or supervise pest management professionals (Walnut Creek and Hayward Workshops)

Pest control operators who provide treatment for ants, cockroaches, and spiders (Cupertino Workshop)

SPEAKERS:

Art Slater, Consultant & former Manager, U.C. Pest Management Services, U.C. Berkeley

Chuck Payton, President, A-PRO Pest Control

Mike Wolf, Entomologist, IPM Biocare

Tanya Drlik, IPM Specialist, Bio-Integral Resource Center

Bart Brandenburg, Pollution Prevention Consultant, Bart Brandenburg & Associates

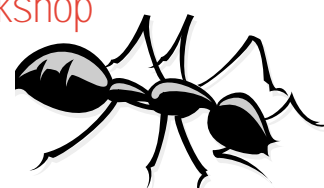

The workshop qualifies for CEUs from the Department of Pesticide Regulation and the Structural Pest Control Board

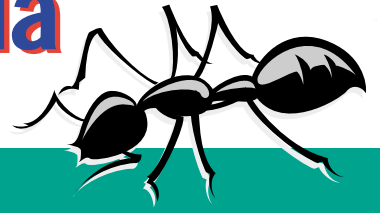

Sponsored by the following Bay Area Water Pollution Prevention Agencies:

Alameda Countywide Clean Water Program, Santa Clara Valley Urban Runoff Pollution Prevention Program, San Mateo Countywide STOPPP, Contra Costa Clean Water Program, Bay Area Pollution Prevention Group, Union Sanitary District, Central Contra Costa Sanitary District, Bay Area Stormwater Management Agencies Association

Registration deadline: Seven days before selected workshop
See the back side for registration instructions

Workshop Agenda

8:30 TO 9:00

Registration Confirmation and Sign-in

9:00 TO 9:45

Introductory Session

- Water quality and pesticides
- Local IPM issues
- IPM – what it is and what it isn't

9:45 TO 12:15 and 1:15 TO 2:30

Breakout Sessions: Ants, Cockroaches, Spiders/Pest Exclusion

Each break-out session will be repeated so all participants can attend and will cover the following sub-topics:

- Monitoring for the pest – tools and tactics
- Keeping records of monitoring and treatments and why it is important
- Sanitation and prevention
- Non-chemical and physical controls, including tools, least-toxic chemical controls and limiting exposure to people, pets, and the environment
- Costs – for the client and the operator

12:15 TO 1:15

Lunch and Vendor Displays

2:30 TO 3:15

Closing Session:

- Adding IPM tools and services to your business or hiring a pest management professional—what to ask and expect
- Test to receive CEUs

ADVANCE REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED • $15 FEE (includes lunch and materials)

To register, send registration form and check (payable to Bart Brandenburg; no purchase orders) to Bart Brandenburg, 201 Shantilly Court, Alamo, CA 94507. If you have questions about the workshop please call (925) 838-4336. Registration confirmation and directions to workshop location will be sent to you.

Indicate your choice of workshop:

Walnut Creek
June 28, 2001

Cupertino
July 9, 2001

Hayward
July 17, 2001

Name: _____ Agency/company: _____

Mailing address: _____

Phone number: _____ Fax number: _____

Email address: _____